Eviction Resolution Pilot Program (ERPP)

Whatcom Dispute Resolution Center in association with Resolution Washington

Housing Stability

Pandemic, Eviction Moratorium, Bridge Proclamation Access to Dispute Resolution, Rental Assistance, Legal Aid

GOALS

- Stabilize housing
- Create a pause point to connect landlords and tenants to available resources (rental assistance and legal aid)
- Offer early resolution to disputes through intake, coaching, conciliation, and mediation, essentially creating an off ramp to litigation
- Reduce court case load
- Other benefits as well: preservation of relationships, reduction of stress, affordable pathways, diversion from future obstacles

Key Stakeholders

- WA State Supreme CourtAdministrative Office of the Courts
- Resolution Washington
- Rental assistance agencies : Opportunity Council (primarily) Legal aid: Law Advocates & Northwest Justice Project
- Local rental associations
- Tenant-Landlord liaison agencies
- Housing advocacy organizations Other nonprofit service providers
- Local and state government
- Superior Court
- The community at large

How it works:

Tenant Owes Rent

If Landlord serves Pay or Vacate Notice, Landlord must send:

To Tenant: ERPP Notice

To local DRC: Copies of ERPP and Pay or Vacate Notices

Tenant Contacts DRC

Tenant responds to DRC within 14 days to accept services

DRC works with Tenant & Landlord

DRC provides dispute resolution services and access to rental assistance and legal aid to resolve unpaid rent

Landlord May Proceed to Court

Landlord may file unlawful detainer complaint and summons in Superior Court.

(Tenant has Right to Council)

Dispute Not Resolved

Certificate of ERPP Participation issued to Landlord and Tenant

Unpaid Rent Resolved

DRC closes ERPP case

Feedback

- ✓ "Thank you to everyone involved with the help. Extremely grateful for the patience and understanding thru this entire process."
- ✓ "Feels like I'm being kissed by angels right now... feels like a birthday present... I have been by myself fighting this for a long time... just having assistance ... is making my dreams come true... you are the best thing that has happened to me today... feeling positively happily overwhelmed!"
- "Thank you so much! I'm very grateful you reached out to me even though that was my responsibility There's so much going on and so many spam callers it's hard to know what you actually need to do. Thank you!"

Next Steps

- Continue to build out staffing to manage high caseload
- Investments in new case management system
- Continue collaboration with statewide partners and Resolution Washington
- Receive feedback from clients, community & program stakeholders
- Refine program moving forward

Gap Funding

- Staffing demands higher than contract funds allow
- Current contract is exhausted
- Critical support to primarily cover staffing expenses for April, May June
- New state contract begins July 1
- County funds stabilize staffing, enable us to sustain and bolster staff during this gap
- Contract will cover wages for up to 11 staff members all or portion of salaries (approx. 5 FTE)
