7. Please describe your occupation (or former occupation if retired), qualifications, professional and/or community activities, and education

I received my Bachelors degree in Human Services from Northwest Indian College and have worked at Lummi Victims of Crime as a Legal Advocate, Victim Advocate, and Missing Indigenous Persons Advocate since 2020. Within these roles I have direct contact with tribal and non-tribal clients and families impacted by domestic violence, many tribal and state representatives, and have an intimate understanding of the cause, impact, and prevention needed for Whatcom County. Prior to this position I worked as an Early Learning Teacher for Lummi school systems for many years developing strong community relationships. All careers have led to over 100 hours of DV related training and significant experience coordinating with law enforcement, prosecutors, and other social services already present at WC DV/SA meetings.

8. Please describe why you're interested in serving on this Advisory Group.

The Whatcom County Commission on Sexual and Domestic Violence is a productive mothership of resources, local connections, critical thinking, and public planning based of real-time data and experiences that impact everyone in our nation. I am tremendously impressed and supportive of the passion, empathy and engagement of leadership of our current commission members and it would be an honor to participate alongside other elected officials who facilitate real change.
