I began my health professions career as a hospital pharmacist (University of Washington graduate), then practiced family medicine for 27 years in Lake Forest Park, WA, after earning my doctor of osteopathic medicine degree from Michigan State University. In 2007, I moved to Yakima and helped start the Pacific NW University of Health Sciences College of Osteopathic Medicine, where I served as dean from 2009-2013. I earned my MPH degree in 2009 from Nova Southeastern University, and then served on the Yakima County Health District Board from 2010-2013. From January 2014 to June 2022, I was the founding dean at the University of the Incarnate Word School of Osteopathic Medicine in San Antonio, TX. In June, my husband and I returned home to Washington and now live at Semiahmoo, where we've vacationed for over 30 years, and bought a condo in 2017. Currently, I'm working part-time as a professor of family medicine and public health teaching remote courses for the University of the Incarnate Word School of Osteopathic Medicine, and a senior consultant for the Ulrich and Ruth Frank Foundation (NextGenU.org). More detailed information about the boards on which I've served and community activities is listed on my attached CV.

10. Please describe why you're interested in serving on this board or commission

I am passionate about doing whatever I can to support health and wellness in the community in which we live. Public health, community-oriented primary care, health policy, preventive medicine, social accountability and communicating effectively with people from all walks of life are very important to me. I have extensive experience working successfully with diverse teams, and enjoy collaborating with groups of people focused on a mutually beneficial mission. Thank you for your kind consideration. It would be an honor to serve on the Whatcom County Public Health Advisory Board.
