What is SNAP-Ed?

SNAP-Ed is federally funded and administered by SNAP State and local implementing agencies. States conduct needs assessments to ensure that SNAP-Ed is delivered in a hands-on and tailored way for their communities. As a result, SNAP-Ed looks different in every State.

SNAP-Ed uses evidence-based, public health projects and interventions. A network of over 28,000 local partners work within States to deliver SNAP-Ed.

WSU Whatcom County Extension SNAP-Ed, has provided hands-on nutrition education in Whatcom County since 2004. We are a community nutrition education program for low-income households. WSU Whatcom SNAP-Ed reaches older youth, adults, and families with limited incomes to develop skills and behaviors to eat more healthfully and be more physically active. Our focus is to support and encourage healthy food choices and increase equitable access to foods for all community members and their families.
