1a. Description of request:

The Ferndale Senior Activity Center provides a vital service to the aging population of Ferndale and surrounding rural areas of the county. Whatcom County owns the building while the City of Ferndale owns the land upon which the building sits.

A core service of the Parks Department is maintaining and repairing Senior Activity Center facilities. Parks is requesting $200,000 in funding for a project-based budget to fund investigative analysis and identify restoration alternatives to several areas of the exterior shell of the building. This investigation will be performed by licensed engineer or architect to determine a cost effective, and durable long-term fix to the 50-year old structure. In addition to repairs to the building envelope, strategies for upgrading the current heating, and ventilation system with a high-efficiency heating, ventilation, and air-conditioning system will also be identified. This project is a high-departmental priority and is identified on the current Seven-Year Capital Improvement Plan (ORD2024-058). This request also provides anticipated direct billing cost for Park staff to administer the project and must be charged directly to the project.

1b. Primary customers:

The primary customers of this effort are the nearly 10,000 visitors that use the center annually. The Ferndale Senior Activity Center provides critical programming and services to the area's senior citizen population.

2. Problem to be solved:

Extensive portions of the original siding are exhibiting rot and decay. The siding system as a whole is at the end of its functional 50-year service lifespan and needs replacing. Parks is solely responsible for preserving the structure, ensuring that it continues to provide a safe and welcoming environment for visitors, community partners, and park staff. This project will identify the required restoration strategies, and develop detailed restoration plans and specifications necessary for cost estimating, regulatory permitting, bidding and ultimately construction.

3a. Options / Advantages:

Parks previously, explored completing the required building repairs however, exploratory efforts by the department's maintenance staff revealed that building decay extended beyond routine maintenance and building repairs that are routine and commonly performed with available maintenance staff resources. And the anticipated restoration required would be more efficiently, and cost effectively by a private building restoration contractor.

3b. Cost savings:

This effort does not include cost savings; however, Parks has initiated discussions with the City of Ferndale to explore potential cost sharing arrangement once an estimate of construction costs has been completed.

4a. Outcomes:

Outcomes of this effort will be identifying a preferred restoration strategy, developing detailed project plans, specifications and cost estimates. Additionally, this effort will secure all required regulatory permit approvals. The actual renovation effort is likely to occur in 2027, and a separate budget request for construction will be submitted for Council consideration at a later date.

4b. Measures:

The final measure of project success will include completing detailed project plans and specifications, estimating renovation costs, and securing regulatory permit approvals necessary to begin the building renovation effort.

5a. Other Departments/Agencies:

Yes, Parks has communicated with the City of Ferndale (Mayor Hansen) to invite engagement concerning restoration planning and specifications and to ensure plans satisfy applicable building and energy codes. Parks has requested that the City consider contributing to funding a portion of restoration costs following development of design specifications.
