AnnouncementsWater Resources Update

Gary Stoyka, Public Works Department, gave the following updates:

- The Department of Ecology (DOE) requested $2.7 million in the next budget through the Governor's budget request for adjudication activities for the next two years and that made it into the budget. The $1 million in funding requested for the Solutions Table and technical studies did not make it into the Governor's budget.
- The Public Utility District (PUD) has completed Phase II of the Regional Water Supply Plan and the County has reviewed that and submitted some comments.
- Technical studies - They are continuing to work on the last phase of the Groundwater Modeling Project and were able to find some grant funding that will offset part of that. The Groundwater/Surface-Water Interaction Study is underway and they only have $100,000 of the needed $432,000.
- Council approved a contract with a consultant to start a water storage study.
- Council approved the first phase of the instream flow extrapolation study.
- There are updates on the South Fork property acquisition but that will be presented later in this meeting.
- Watershed Management Board meeting topics of the last meeting included recreational impacts to salmon and feedback on the Yakima Integrated Plan.
- The main topic of the next Watershed Management Board meeting in March will be the 2023-2028 Five-Year Work Plan.
- The County has hired Lauren Clemens as the new Climate Action Manager.
- The next Water Work Session is scheduled for February 14, 2023.
